

I remember

COWS

over where the Bloomingdale's
is now
cows!

the 1980s
the downtown
was a lot quieter
back then

I am a member
remember
a brew pub
more brew pub
were a thing

I remember
everything changes

a time when it was so empty
you could roll a
bowling ball
mamaroneck avenue
hard to imagine now!

everything
but not the dollar market
on post road
and the hardware store
it's still there

of this community

i hope they never change

you go in and see

i remember
everything changes
but not the dollar market on post road and the hardware store
it's still there
an old fashioned hardware store scruffy
dusty
you go in and say
"i need something, something, i can't remember the name of it it's round and it has a sharp bottom...and it goes into the..."
and he knows exactly what you're talking about!
he goes up on a ladder and finds it for you i hope they never change.
